Richard Echlin
URENCO UK

" I am a Senior Electrical Technician at URENCO UK Ltd, URENCO are very passionate about the development of their employees and provide a wide range of opportunities to help their staff to develop and reach their career goals.

Within URENCO UK I work within the Plant Maintenance department. Plant Maintenance deliver the technical engineering service for several nuclear enrichment plants on the Capenhurst site. I personally work upon a wide variety of electrical and electronic systems, and my degree is providing me with a greater knowledge and understanding of the electrical fundamentals and principles in the designs. The knowledge gained has proved indispensable in my daily operations, and I provide a responsive service to the business to ensure a continuous production process.

URENCO UK work within a highly regulated environment working within strict quality, safety and environmental standards. It is incredibly rewarding to work in a multi-disciplined technical engineering team with core electrical and instrumentation skills providing the maintenance, repair, commissioning, calibration and modification of a plant and process related equipment in a cost effective and reliable manner."
